Returns

AT&T offers a return policy for equipment and services purchased directly from AT&T. This return policy may not reflect the policies of AT&T authorized retailers.

If the phone or device you purchased doesn't meet your expectations, return it by mail within 30 days from the date the equipment was shipped. Refunds are applied using the original payment method. Any rebate associated with returned equipment is voided.

Equipment received through an insurance claim can't be returned or exchanged. Equipment warranty rules may apply.

Typically, if you return or exchange a phone that you received through an upgrade within 30 days of the upgrade, you can receive an equipment discount for a replacement phone.

After you return your equipment to AT&T, allow a few days for a credit to post to your account and for your equipment discount to be restored. When you initiate an upgrade to replace the returned equipment, the equipment discount appears during online phone and device selection.

Exceptions

Some phones, devices, and accessories don't use the standard AT&T return policy. For example, some devices must be returned within 14 days from the date of purchase instead of 30 days. For specific exception details about the return policy for your phone, device, or accessory, visit AT&T Wireless Return Policy, and click the Returns by Device tab.
