Many companies face the daily challenges and complexities of integrating video conferencing into their workplace and culture. The business environment expects rapid decision-making and constant communication within organizations as well as externally with suppliers and customers. Video conferencing can use the ‘cloud’ to offer customers a cost-effective and flexible option to meet their growing communications needs. The AT&T Video Meetings with Blue Jeans cloud-based, multi-platform solution offers a cost-effective, ‘on-the-go’ approach to video collaboration that meets the needs of both business users and IT administrators. With AT&T Video Meetings with Blue Jeans, video meetings can be easy, interoperable and affordable.

Wide interoperability for broader reach
Companies can leverage the value of their smartphones, tablets, or existing video infrastructure by using the wide interoperability offered by AT&T Video Meetings with Blue Jeans. This video collaboration solution offers integration with Microsoft® Skype for Business and supports iOS, Android, most standard web browsers, Cisco® Jabber®, plus standards based room and immersive video systems.

AT&T Video Meetings with Blue Jeans also offers unique, industry-leading interoperability between Microsoft® Skype for Business users and many other video technologies that can help extend the reach of Skype for Business users to include most conference room video equipment and supported mobile or laptop devices.
